1.RWD:

What is the purpose of the RWD? Why it is use?

The purpose of RWD is that all website be readable on all different Medias, which exist today and an adaptability for all screen size. (Smartphone, computer screen, tablet).

How things are done before RWD?

Before the RWD we make the other design for each platform, but this design was just use on their platform.

What is the difference?

The difference is now we can create a CSS design for each platform in one time.

How CSS media queries can help you building responsive web design?

With css media queries we can choose the size when our design change, it is easier to make our website responsive.

Why to use "em" (font) based sizing for example margin?
